

Celestial Jinn Elders Serenity Ritual by Arnaud Vincote.

In Corwin Hargrove's book "Practical Jinn Magick" there is mention of the four elders, these djinn are used in the opening ritual to get the others djinn under command. The implication of this is that these four elders have great power. Only saying their names is powerful in itself. I've found that a short recitation of their names brings serenity.

These four elders actually are the sons of Jan, the most powerful djinni, and the father of the whole race of djinn. Since they are his sons, they have a lot of djinn under their commands. These four elders are said to be celestial, meaning they are benevolent.

Reaching to these four elders is challenging, but I did so, and I'm ready to give you a little tip to work with them.

Enough with the suspense:

Focus on yourself, calm down. Now say "Mazar, Kemtaam, Taikaal, Qaswarah." these are the names of the four elders (a lot of variations exists, I use this one. Pronounce them as you like.) repeat these four names several time and notice your calm growing stronger.

Now, imagine being bathed in a benevolent and powerful white light. Say "TEL-EE-BEB" with the intent of being empowered in any aspect of your life.

Say the name "Mazar, Kemtaam, Taikaal, Qaswarah." several time again, noticing what you feel, and holding on to the intent and the visualization of the white light.

Repeat this ritual at will, doing so will empower you, not only magically, but also in the mundane.
